This Week

Bagpipes!: We need to borrow a set of bagpipes to use in this year's Shakespeare production. If you have, or know anyone who has, a set of bagpipes that could be loaned to us please get in touch. (Please note they don't need to be in working order!)

Tesco Tokens: We are one of the chosen charities for Tesco's "blue token" scheme at the moment. If you shop at Broadbridge Heath or Brighton Road Tesco, please make sure you use your tokens to vote for us.

Great Bake Off: Thank you to everyone who supported our Bake Off on Wednesday. The winners were; Best Table: Cedar, Best Parent/Child or Family Bake: Christian & Mum, Best Staff Bake: Ashley, Best Bake: Willows. Money is still coming in, but so far we've raised an amazing £300 for the Girl Guides' Sussex Central Coco's Foundation 2018 project.

Medication: If you are sending medication in to school with your child, please always hand it directly to their escort so we can keep it safe. Please do not leave it in their bag.

Class News from Oaks Class

Oaks have had a busy start to the year. As well as our regular class work following our ASDAN and NCFE curriculums, we have also enjoyed some trips out to local garden centres.

Class News from Willows Class

Willows have been busy doing lots of cooking for our school bake off this week. We enjoyed trying different ingredients then made them into lots of yummy cakes and biscuits.

Rachel Gadsden Art Project

Last week, students from Pines, Limes and Oaks joined our Patron of the Arts, Rachel Gadsden, for a special art project. They had a tour of the Tate Modern Gallery in London and then spent two days creating their own artwork, which will be displayed as part of our exhibition at The Capitol next summer. Many thanks to The Arts Society (Horsham Branch) for funding this.
